

Dear Sirs,I am a regular listener to K-Love that uses FM translators. I would hope that in your discussion of low power Fm (LPFM) system expansion that present existing stations would have the priority over any new proposed use. As a Real estate broker, I am in my car much of the time. I listen almost exclusively to K-Love and other Christian stations that use the translators to serve hundreds of thousands of listeners at a reasonable cost. I hope that proper consideration of what positive impact these stations have on our communities will secure there continued existance and not be displaced by any LPFM expansion. Sincerely, John Baker
